OUR OTTAWA LETTER.

The Marriage of Hon. George E. Foster and Mrs. Addie C. Chisholm Criticized.

Is the Marriage a Legal One?—Orders-in-Council Passed by the Government.

[From our own Correspondent.]

Ottawa, Ont., July 6.—The sudden and unexpected marriage of Hon. Geo. E. Foster to Mrs. Addie Chisholm, in Chicago, on Tuesday last, is the leading piece of political gossip here. Mr. Foster left for the west early in the week, got married in the First Baptist church, Chicago, on Tuesday, returning to the city on Wednesday evening. Until his arrival here no one was aware of the marriage. It will be remembered that Mr. Chisholm, who resided in Hamilton, was an insurance and loan agent, got into business difficulties and took refuge in the States. He was a prominent temperance lecturer, a pillar in the church, and naturally was trusted with large sums of money for investment, some of which he appropriated to himself. He was a director of the Hamilton Tribune, started principally in the temperance interests and his escape and failure were the means of it collapsing. Mrs. Chisholm came to Ottawa shortly after her husband's departure, where she took up her residence, continuing to take an active work in temperance, being president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union for Ontario and editing the women's journal. Mr. Foster, who was not at that time in the cabinet, and who for years was acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. Chisholm, while engaged in temperance lecturing, stayed at Mrs. Chisholm's, during the sitting of parliament. In addition to her other duties Mrs. Chisholm contributed a column every week on temperance to the Toronto Mail. When several months ago Mrs. Chisholm left Ottawa for Chicago it was hinted that she went to stay at her brother's who endeavored to bring about a reconciliation between herself and her husband. In this he failed, and the next heard of her was in the divorce court in Chicago. Through the blundering of her lawyer and the refusal of herself to give away the residence of her husband in the States, she was refused a divorce. That was a few weeks ago. Since then she succeeded in obtaining the necessary papers, and the marriage immediately took place.

IS IT LEGAL?

Now the important question is raised as to whether the marriage is a legal one. A leading divorce lawyer in the city, and an authority on the question, says it is not worth the paper it is written on. In the first place it is claimed that the necessary papers were never served on Mr. Chisholm. Again Mrs. Chisholm only went to Chicago to live temporarily so as to secure a divorce. If a Canadian who cannot get a divorce in Canada can take a trip to Chicago and obtain one there, the question is asked of what use are our elaborate attempts to restrict divorce. The marriage of Mr. Foster and Mrs. Chisholm is a severe blow to the observance of the Canadian law. Here no divorces are recognized but by act of parliament. An American tribunal cannot annul a Canadian marriage, and if it were so, Canadians would speedily demand that the law should be amended and secure for us protection from one of the worst social evils in the United States, namely, the laxity of divorce. There is little reason to believe that Mr. Chisholm will ever return to Canada and molest either the finance minister or his wife, but should he do so it is freely argued by legal gentlemen that he had a right to do so. References are also made to the celebrated case of Dr. Sangster, whose marriage under circumstances that shocked public opinion drove him into private life. Mr. Foster and Mrs. Addie C. Chisholm seem to view the matter with less concern than the general public. They are living quietly at their residence here for a few days, and afterwards intend leaving for the seaside where they will spend the honeymoon free from the gossip which their marriage has created. The colleagues of the finance minister have visited the newly married couple, but the question never will be, under the circumstances of the marriage be invited to Government House along with her husband? That will not be known until the social dinners of the next session commence. It may be said that Mrs. Chisholm has a son attending the Belleville college.

DOMINION DAY.

The usual civic demonstration was held here on Dominion Day. Horse races, a baseball match and a balloon ascension were the principal sports. On the Metropolitan athletic grounds a game of lacrosse took place between the Shamrocks, of Montreal, and the Ottawas, the latter coming off victorious by four games to three after one of the hardest contested games ever seen in Ottawa. This was a league match. So far the Cornwalls head the list and the Ottawas second.

THE MAGISTRATES' BILL.

An order-in council has been passed by the Dominion government disallowing the district magistrates' bill, passed by the Quebec legislature. Considering the position taken by the Dominion government on the Jesuits' bill, and particularly the speech of Sir John Thompson on that question, considerable comment is made here as to the action of the government using the veto power in this case. On the Jesuit estates bill the government held that it had no right to interfere in legislation passed by the provinces even if it were bad. Sir John Thompson went further in regard to this case than anyone else. He held that the powers of legislatures were such that they could even annul an Imperial statute, and that the Dominion had no right to interfere with legislation passed by the provinces even if it were unconstitutional. Now he recommends the disallowance of a bill which is not said to be unconstitutional, and which comes fairly within the rights of the province to pass. The earnestness of the government in allowing the one bill and in disallowing the other is therefore seriously questioned. However, there is time yet to act in the Jesuits estates bill, although it is not likely that the government intend to do anything in the matter.

THE RATE OF INTEREST.

Another order-in council has been passed by the government reducing the rate of interest in the Post Office Savings Banks. During the session of 1888 the government was granted this power by parliament, but several conservative members said that if they thought the power would be exercised they would not vote for it. The move will not be popular among the working classes, but it is understood the pressure from the banks throughout the Dominion was too strong to bring about the change as to permit the government refusing the request.

HUDSON BAY RAILWAY.

I learn on good authority that such arrangements have been made with the Dominion government as to ensure the construction of the Hudson Bay Railway. Mr. Hugh Sutherland, president of the company, spent some four months in the city furthering the scheme.

SCHOOL'S REPORT FOR 1889.

To THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR—As the first of October will soon be here and the School's Report for '88-'89 must be ready on or before that date, may it not be well to point out a few of the inaccuracies of last year's one, some of which might have been avoided had Mr. Pope taken my private advice years ago. The very first statement that he makes in last schools report condemns him. He says:

"December, 1888—In accordance with the requirement of the Public School Act, 1885, etc." To be in accordance with the school act the date should have been on or before Oct. 1st, possibly that is near enough. On the next page, the rule for trustees about attendance is misleading, as it will not apply to graded schools. Near enough! On the next page he states there are nine graded schools yet thereafter only six are reported. Near enough! On the same page the total number of schools in operation is stated to be 99; yet nine lines below it is stated that two others were in operation the entire year. Near enough again! On the next page (176) the number of school districts is stated to be 104, yet on pages 30-38 only 101 are reported. Near enough! On page 187, he states that school houses were erected during the present year in Vancouver city school district. First there is no such school district, as you will see on page 37 the school district is Vancouver. And these schools were not erected until after June 30, 1888. Near enough! On pages 193, 194, 198, 203, 205, 208, you will notice that parts of the reports of the principals have been suppressed. His duty by rule 11 page 111 is to publish "any other information that he may possess respecting the educational state and wants and advantages of each school and district in the province." Near enough! On page 234, he says "a copy of the following circular was sent to each teacher, etc." How could a copy of what was not in existence be sent? But even this is not a true copy of what was sent to the teachers as the most important part is left out, that which referred to daily marking. Near enough! On page 226, he again condemns himself. Errors in annual report are generally the result of negligence and hence are inexcusable. What about the errors in his annual returns? On page 23 he apparently does not know the name of the principal school districts in the province. He calls it Victoria, whereas on page 37 it is stated to be Victoria city. Near enough! On page 33 the boundaries of a school district are said to be "a radius of three miles from the court house." This description is too ludicrous not to be noticed. A school district three miles long without any breadth containing at least 15 children of school age and not even the location of the court house given. Would you not recommend Messrs. Pope and Wilson to offer two months salary ($370) as a prize for the teacher who will state the best system of keeping daily marks, as it will be most humiliating if the next report must be published without a system. Where do you suppose Mr. Pope's salary would be if his rule about forfeiting one month's salary for every failure of duty were applied to him? Would not the revenue of the province be increased by about $2100?

PERSONAL.

Items Telling of Movements of Well Known Persons.

Capt. Scoullar, of New Westminster, and F. G. Strickland were among the arrivals from New Westminster last night.

R. W. Bryant, a representative of the New York World, is in the city, and will remain for a few days.

Mr. John Weiler, Mrs. Weiler and Miss Weiler returned from Banff last night.

Miss Lillie Parks is a passenger by the Sardonyx, sailing this evening for the north, where she goes to spend a few weeks with Mrs. Carthew at the North Pacific Canning Co.'s station.

Miss Katie Todd of the public schools arrived from the mainland last evening.

H. F. Keefer is at the Clarence.

Col. Holmes has gone to the interior for the benefit of his health.

E. P. Hartney, an official connected with the house of commons, Ottawa, was in the city yesterday.

Sir Somers Vine, secretary of the Imperial Institute, which is intended to be a great national memorial of the queen's reign founded by public subscriptions from every part of the empire, is in the city to interview the lieutenant-governor and provincial government. Sir Somers is deputed to visit the principal British colonies for the purpose of explaining the proposed organization. He has visited Ceylon, the Straits Settlements, Queensland, New South Wales, South Australia, Victoria, Tasmania and New Zealand and will visit the governor-general at Ottawa and the different provinces before returning to England. He remains in Victoria a few days.

H. L. Snowden, lumber dealer, Vancouver, was a passenger by the Islander last evening.

Plain Presbyterians.

The Rev. Dr. John Hall, formerly of Dublin, now pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York, is said to be the richest parson alive. His stipend is $25,000 per annum. Donations from his admirers bring up his annual receipts to nearly $100,000 per annum. He has accumulated $1,000,000 and lives like a prince. Men with a capital of $400,000,000 attend the church every Sunday morning. If it be true that this Presbyterian minister gets $100,000 per annum from his congregation, then he gets $25,000 a year more than the Archbishop of Canterbury, who is the head of the English Church. Some fifty years ago there was a living in the Church of England worth $150,000 a year, and it is even now worth some $10,000 or $15,000. This was the living of Doddington, of which the patronage was in private hands, so the family to whom it belonged took care always to have a relative in training to put into it. But the radicals in the house of commons stopped in and split up the living, (for there was hardly any population in Doddington) and distributed the money in poor and populous districts. Still there are existing livings in the Church of England with incomes of $15,000 and even $25,000 per annum, sometimes with a population of less than a thousand souls. The fact that such things exist, and are defended by the Tory party, helps forward very much the cause of disestablishment in England because the salaries are public moneys. We have nothing to say against the congregation in Fifth Avenue paying Mr. Hall $100,000 a year, nor could any outsider have anything to say if the people who are to worship in the new magnificent brick cathedral on Douglas street were to double the salary of their pastor. Dr. Hall and the Rev. Mr. McLeod are paid by those who employ them, but the Church of England is a national church, and the nation contributes to the payment of the salaries of its parsons.

THIS DAY'S DOINGS.

Further Loss of the Dervishes—1500 Appear in an Exhausted Condition.

Sullivan Still Invisible—Suicide in High Life—Distinguished Party Coming.

[By Postal Telegraph.]

London, July 15.—A dispatch from Cairo says: News has been received that 1500 dervishes, the advance guard of the invading army, have appeared at Ferras, on the Nile, fifty miles below Assouan. They were greatly exhausted and seemed to be undecided whether to continue their advance.

OUR FORTIFICATIONS.

The Ottawa Government's Reply to the Imperial Authorities.

Ottawa, July 15.—The government has forwarded a reply to the Imperial dispatch received last month relative to the proposed defences on the Pacific coast. Three or four weeks ago it was announced in the House of Lords that the Dominion government had consented to maintain 100 men of the Royal Marine Artillery at Esquimalt, B. C. The statement was premature. A dispatch requesting the Canadian authorities to do this had been forwarded to Ottawa. A reply just sent embodies the views of the government in the matter. A request to maintain this Imperial force at Esquimalt is respectfully declined, the Canadian authorities proposing in lieu thereof to build earthworks on the Straits of San Juan de Fuca at a cost of $75,000; to maintain a battery of artillery at Victoria and to keep an effective military force in British Columbia. In return the Imperial authorities are asked to supply the armament for the fortification, and to maintain a force of Royal Marines to handle the guns. Ground is taken that Imperial interests are as important as those of Canada, and it is therefore held but fair that the expense should be equally divided.

BROTHERS DROWNED.

Grant's Pass, Ogn., July 15.—Two brothers, Charles and Fred Thornton, were drowned in Rogue river while bathing early last evening. They were probably seized with a cramp or carried down by an undercurrent, as they sank without a struggle directly in sight of their little brother, who had accompanied them. The bodies have not yet been recovered. They were proprietors of Grant's Pass soda works and were most exemplary young men.

SEVERE WINDSTORM.

Cincinnati, July 15.—A windstorm swept away 30 houses, a sawmill and the school house in the town of Princetown yesterday afternoon. It is not known yet whether any loss of life occurred.

CHINESE THUGS.

San Francisco, July 15.—Ly Lung, a Chinaman, was shot in the back by Ngah Yen, a countryman, early this morning and is believed to be fatally wounded. Yen was arrested. A Highbinder's feud is supposed to be the cause of the shooting.

In Los Angeles, yesterday, Gee Sing, a Chinese vegetable peddler, was shot and killed by Ah King, another peddler, who was captured while attempting to escape.

NINETY KILLED.

Cairo, July 15.—Dervishes have lost ninety men in recent skirmishes with Egyptian troops.

CABLE CAR ACCIDENT.

Cincinnati, July 15.—A cable car on the Vine street road became unmanageable last evening and the passengers jumped. Mrs. Julia Tilgheder was killed and six others severely hurt.

DISTINGUISHED PARTY COMING.

Fremont, Neb., July 15.—A notable excursion party will leave here to-morrow for the Pacific coast. The party will be made up of Congressman McKinley, of Ohio, Hon. Nathan Goff of West Virginia, Congressman J. C. Burrows of Michigan, Congressman Hayden of Massachusetts, Congressmen Stewart of Vermont, Capt. J. S. S. Herr and Perry S. S. Heath of the Indianapolis Journal. These gentlemen will be the guests of Congressman Geo. W. E. Dorsey of Nebraska, who desires to show them the growth and material development of the west. They will also visit Portland, Ogn., Olympia, Seattle, Tacoma and Victoria.

A BIG STORM.

Cincinnati, July 15.—A wind storm swept over Butler county yesterday afternoon accompanied by heavy rain, which did much damage to property in the town of Princeton, though lasting only twenty minutes. Among the buildings destroyed was a large school house, which was utterly wrecked and the roof carried 200 yards and lodged on top of a big tree. Several other houses and shops were badly damaged. No loss of life occurred. Princeton has only about 200 inhabitants, and early stories of heavy losses were unfounded.

PASSION AND DESPAIR.

London, July 15.—The double suicide of Baroness Acton and Count Waldemar Blumenthal at Munich caused a profound sensation here where the lady was well known. The causes are as yet enveloped in mystery. The baroness was not related to Count Arco Valley, the German minister at Washington, as has been stated. The circumstances of the tragedy, when known, are expected to reveal a remarkable tale of passion and despair.

CREATED AN OFFICER.

Paris, July 15.—M. DeBeaurepaire, Prosecutor-General, has been created an officer of the Legion of Honor.

LIGHTNING'S WORK.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 15.—Lightning struck the warerooms of the Consolidated Tank & Lime Co. during a storm early this morning and the building with 400 pounds of gasoline was burned; loss, $30,000; insured.

REDUCING THE TIME.

Philadelphia, July 15.—President Corbin, of the Reading Railroad and of the Rapid Transit steamship company, has bought 2200 acres of land and water front at Montauk to form a landing place for his new proposed steamship line across the Atlantic. Eight million dollars has already been secured for the enterprise in New York chiefly from the Vanderbilts and Astors. Steamships will be built in this country and will be eight in number. It is expected they will make the voyage in 5½ days. They will carry only saloon and second cabin passengers. Contracts will not be awarded till after a trial of the new twin screw system now in construction for the new White Star steamship Majestic.

AFRAID OF 'EM.

London, July 15.—The north of London match, in which the Massachusetts Rifle team was to compete, has been abandoned, the beaten club objecting to new conditions imposed on the contestants. The Americans admit the justice of the objection.

FALL OF THE BASTILE.

New York, July 15.—Frenchmen of this city continue the celebration of the fall of the Bastile to-day by a parade reviewed by Mayor Grant, the decorating of the statues of Lafayette and Washington in Union Square, and an elaborate programme of games, sports and musical exercises at Jones' Park. The French flag is displayed on the city hall and on many buildings throughout the city.

SULLIVAN INVISIBLE.

New York, July 15.—It is still asserted here that Sullivan is in the city, but he is not visible anywhere. The rumors are doubtful. Harding of the Police Gazette said to-day, "Sullivan will not be allowed to wear the belt until he deposits a thousand dollars with Fox as security for its safe keeping and a guarantee that he will defend it against all comers."

JEALOUS GRASPERS.

City of Mexico, July 15.—There is a great outcry against Americans winning the principal prizes in the national and state lotteries. It is now proposed to refuse to sell tickets or to deliver prizes to foreigners. There was a fresh outbreak of the feeling yesterday over the fact that in the last drawing by the local lottery the capital prize was won by a Nashville, Tenn., man.

SPORTING NOTES.

Kamloops Won, but is Still Kicking—General Notes.

Westminster turned the tables on Vancouver on Saturday, winning the cricket match by 11 runs on the result of the first innings.

GENERAL NOTES.

Montreal, July 15.—Lacrosse—Shamrocks 3; Cornwall 4.

CHECKER CONTEST.

Winnipeg, July 15.—Kelly won the checker match with Davis, of St. Paul. Score, 5 to 4.

ANOTHER KICK.

The Kamloops Sentinel cannot perhaps help being chumpish, but it should at least be able to tell the truth. It states that the Kamloops-Amity baseball game in Victoria was won by the former with a "score of 15 to 3", and adds: "This result seemed to break the Victorians all to pieces, and the war dogs of wrath and abuse were let loose, the Colonist and TIMES vieing with each other in endeavoring to say the worst words against the Kamloops team, a work in which they were ably abetted by the Vancouver News-Advertiser. But the boys survive, and conscious of their power and innocence of the charges laid against them, can afford to treat with silent contempt the silly vaporings of those who know not how to accept a fair and honorable defeat." How much abuse the TIMES uttered against the visitors its readers can testify. The Sentinel also contains a great deal more that is silly and childish, inspired evidently by one of the youths who followed the club around on its tour. A long wail is made over the loss of $16.50 and because the Kamloops players were not lions in Victoria to the same extent that they were in Port Townsend. The members of the Kamloops team, however, were mostly good fellows who can hardly be accountable for the conduct of the government organ in Kamloops or their camp-followers.

LACROSSE.

The lacrosse team will practice as usual this evening at 7 p. m. A full turn out is requested, as a return match against Vancouver is in contemplation within the next couple of weeks. To-morrow evening the club will hold a special meeting at Hall & Lowe's at 8 p. m. sharp, to which every member is requested to attend—business of a special nature will be brought forward.

BASEBALL.

The Maplelefs and Mayflowers put up a decidedly yellow game of ball on Saturday. They tumbled to pieces at the start and were notable to pull themselves together again before the end of the game, which strung out longer than a cricket match. A good deal of noise was made over the game, there being too many coachers and spectators having too much to say. The game, however, proved too one-sided to require sharp play. The result evens up the series and starts the three clubs out in a fair race for the pennant. Following was the

SPORTING AND PERSONAL.

London, July 15.—The Valkyrie has been defeated by the Varuna at the Royal Ulster regatta at Bangor.

Wilkie Collins' condition is slightly improved.

McKoe, the bank swindler, has been sentenced to eight years' imprisonment at Hamburg.

Searle and O'Connor are training on the Thames.

Quinn is matched to wrestle the Jap either here or in Seattle on the 22nd of July.

The Victoria cricket club defeated H. M. S. Champion on Saturday with a score of 181 to 119 and 11 innings to spare.

Shade of this city is matched to walk ten miles while Sidney Perry of San Francisco runs thirteen.

A JUVENILE NINE.

A match of baseball was played this morning on the grounds of St. Louis College between a scratch nine and the Young Amities. The former were victorious, and immediately after the victory they marched in a body to the TIMES office to "put it in the paper". The boys said it was a great game, and that they rattled the Young Amities so bad that they may never play again, out of pure disgust. The following was the score: Young Amities, 22; scratch nine, 40.

Young Amities—Charles Geiger, Fred. George, Ed. Geiger, Bob Burns, Charles Jaynes, H. Marbouf, Joe McGiven, Alex Gill, Tom Moody.

Scratch nine—Allan Calwell, W. F. Whitely, H. Gibson, W. Winger, Jack Rathven, Bud King, Dudley Hepworth, Tom Fletcher, Fritz Gill.

A. Huxtable, umpire; Ed. George, scorer.

REPORTED PRIZE FIGHT.

It is currently reported that preliminaries have been arranged and $100 deposited for a prize fight to take place some time this month in the vicinity of Nanaimo. The fight will be between a well known Royal "sport" of that city and a young Frenchman hailing from a logging camp near Chemainus.

THEY HADN'T THE SAND.

The Vancouver hose team failed to meet the Victorians to arrange a match. The Vancouver hose team after all their blow and bluster about being willing to run a race with the Victoria team, failed to meet the Victoria delegation in this city to-day as per the challenge they accepted. Chief Engineer Deasy, and F. Hinds, Captain of the Victoria hose team arrived in the city by the noon train and were at the mayor's office before the appointed hour, and after waiting twenty minutes and seeing no signs of their opponents, returned to the capital by the afternoon train. The Chief naturally feels indignant at the way the Vancouver team has acted. Much interest was taken in the race in Victoria and it is too bad that it could not have come off in this city.—Nanaimo Free Press.

The Quebec Premier will Appeal to the Country on the Jesuit Question.

The Meaning of the Jesuit Agitation—Dalton McCarthy Throws Some Light.

[Special to THE TIMES.]

Toronto, May 15.—Geo. Lovatt stood in front of St. Matthew's Episcopal church last night, distributing tracts opposed to ritualism. Rev. Mr. Howard, pastor of the church, snatched the tracts from Lovatt, who struck at the reverend gentleman. Members of the congregation interfered, and Lovatt escaped.

Mercier to Appeal to the Country in December—That Divorce.

[Special to THE TIMES.]

Ottawa, July 15.—A prominent French Canadian politician in this city to-day says that the local elections in Quebec will come off in the latter part of December. There is another session of the Mercier government to run, but owing to dissatisfaction among the Nationalists on the Jesuit question Mercier will appeal to the country at that time.

A prominent lawyer in the city defends Mrs. Chisholm in this morning's Citizen for going to Chicago for a divorce, and not appearing before the antiquated Senate, where no judge was to preside over its deliberations.

THE DUAL LANGUAGE.

McCarthy Pledges Himself to Move for Its Disuse.

[Special to THE TIMES.]

Montreal, July 15.—In addressing a meeting of his constituents on Friday, Dalton McCarthy, M. P., explained his position on the Jesuit question and the allowance of the act by the Dominion government. There was perfect honesty on his part, and he believed also on the part of Sir John Macdonald in the course he had taken, but their courses were as wide as the poles asunder, and there had been no collusion between himself and Sir John Macdonald on the question. If this generation does not settle this question at the ballot-box, bayonets will settle it in the next. He strongly urged the abolition of the dual language system in the northwest. To his shame he said he had not known until six months ago that such was the law in regard to the northwest. He pledged himself that at the next session he would move for expunging that law from the statutes and keep the great northwest from the dual language system.

HOW IT CAME OUT.

An Indiscreet Lady Announces a Royal Marriage Prematurely.

New York, July 15.—G. W. Smalley's London correspondence to the Tribune says on the engagement of the Princess Louise of Wales and the Earl of Fife that the engagement has long been thought of and long anticipated and was finally settled at the Ascott races. The proposal was made and accepted on the Cup day, the 20th of June. One by one the Prince's set, the most intimate of them, came to to know of the affair, then a whole group of persons were told at the Agricultural show at Windsor on the day of the Queen's first visit. One of the court officials came from the Castle with a message to a certain lady, announcing the engagement, but, said he, solemnly, "It is still a great secret and you must tell nobody." "Oh!" answered this lady in her dry way, "It is much too good a secret to keep and I shall tell everybody," and she did to the horror of the high official who I believe told the Queen there was no help for it and that the news must be sent at once to the papers, lest an unauthorized announcement should appear in print. So it was that the public come to know of the event a little sooner than had been intended.

THE TABLES TURNED.

English Capital Gradually Buying up the United States.

Chicago, July 12.—The Tribune this morning says: Representatives of an English syndicate are in Chicago for the purpose of buying gas trust plants, and that they propose to furnish gas at 25 cents per 1000 feet. The syndicate proposes to organize a company with a capital of $2,000,000, and to put in plants for making gas all over the United States, following the line of the least resistance and the largest profits. If local capitalists accept the proposition made to them by the syndicate, the work will begin at once, as plenty of capital is said to be behind the Englishmen. Their names are withheld for the present, but they are well known to Chicago bankers, and the quality and quantity of their financial backing is said to be above suspicion. The syndicate, if its proposition is accepted, intend to begin operations at once.

THE MUDDY WATER.

The Canadian Freeman on the Rev. Mackie's Speech.

Kingston, Ont., July 11.—The Canadian Freeman, a Catholic organ, has over a column of editorial on Rev. John Mackie's fiery sermon to the Orangemen on Sunday last. Making personal reference to Mr. Mackie, it asks every right-thinking Protestant to "read carefully through the rigmarole of unchristian and uncharitable bosh and give an honest, unbiased opinion, not only as to whether it is the speaking of God through the mouth of a minister of God, but as to whether, from a social point of view, it is good for the community at large that this man should stand forth in the pulpit and endeavor, under a cloak of religion, to stir the muddy water and create ferment, discord and ill-feeling between two bodies of citizens willing and anxious to live as God would have them live and be at peace with all men. We feel confident the majority of right-thinking Protestants, although unwilling publicly to condemn Mackie's utterances, will serve in acknowledging the bad taste and untimely delivery."

THE NATIONAL POLICY AND THE COLONIST.

The Colonist can see no joke in a Board of Trade out of harmony with the men for whom the members of the organization once officiated as sponsors and political helpmeets. It is a very serious matter to the Colonist, this interruption of the political love feast. It does not follow, however, that what is a solemn affair to the Colonist should be a matter of sackcloth and ashes for THE TIMES, nor that the latter should sob because the former weeps. Must THE TIMES mingle lamentations with the groans of discomfited protectionists? But though we laugh while our contemporary is making the welkin ring with its bewailings, be it understood we have no crow to pick with the Board of Trade. Rather do we congratulate that body for creating the issue they have, which not alone argues for their good sense but which, besides, is in effect a long-deferred endorsement of the policy of THE TIMES. We regard the action of the Board of Trade as the precursor of intelligent legislation. We regard it the first faint reflex of a movement which will break down the prestige of families in the direction of political affairs, a survival as contrary to the genius of the province as it is inimical to true progress. We have had enough of deferring to the "National Policy" fad. We now want a little B. C. policy. Charity begins at home. We must look out for ourselves first. If we concede to "National Policy" so must "National Policy" concede to us. We cannot endure that the boot should be on one foot all the time. But to address ourselves more immediately to the Colonist, and with all due deference for that journal's rationale, we ask, that if the Board of Trade was inspired by high patriotic motives to hurrah for codfish, to what category of patriotism do our M. P.'s belong? It seems to us that the Colonist, in its anxiety to convince the Board of Trade of its not being in the least vexed, draws an invidious distinction between the Board of Trade and the M. P.'s because it is impossible that pro cod fish and anti codfish both can be patriots. Thus does the Colonist make a mess of things and set the world a laughing. Speaking for our National Policy people we should feel not a little put out at having such a "beastly" radical measure as reciprocity pasted to our National Policy programme. Deucedly unpleasant to have the balmy breezes of patriotism taken out of our sails without a hint of it, and compelling us to drift idly with the tide of public opinion. Let us thank heaven for a Board of Trade which is manly enough to strike out for themselves without regard for the hard and fast notions of "National Policy men." But we need not discuss the matter further, important as the departure is, we will simply say that in the political manipulation of the future, we shall endeavor to so build up the spirit of independence as to compel the Mahommed of "National Policy" to go to the mountain of Reciprocity. It is on this line that we propose to conduct the campaign if it "takes all summer."

UNCONTROLLABLE BILIOUSNESS.

Last winter, when the Legislature voted the Canadian Western a grant of land, Vancouver kicked, because, said Vancouver, the measure is a wilful waste of the people's heritage. The ferry question having come up by which Vancouver's prestige as a terminal point is threatened, that city, through its organs, attempts to squelch the project by a lurid description of the "uncontrollable billows" which beat their everlasting requiem on the rocky shores of Plumper's Pass. And, we are further told, with the same Vancouverese regard for the veracious, that "Victoria's crack steamers" have to lay up for days in the aforesaid pass for the "uncontrollable billows" to subside. As it is no part of our programme to underrate the difficulties which lie in the way of the successful consummation of the ferry scheme, we shall not dispute the uncontrollableness of the billows peculiar to the Gulf of Georgia. Justice to "Victoria's crack steamers," compels us to say, however, that not since the Enterprise was sunk has there been any anchoring by the regular line of steamers plying between Victoria and Vancouver on account of "uncontrollable billows!" The C. P. N.'s steamers are all seaworthy and barring the mal de mer incident to a rough trip across the Gulf, a passage is more picturesque than dangerous. To pass on to the ferry, we would inform our Vancouver contemporary that it is not the intention of the projectors to employ ordinary steamers. The steamers will require to have been built for the express purpose of ferrying, long, broad, deep and fast. The manner of ingress and egress to them will have to be of such a character to admit of celerity of transference to and from them. The steamers, in fact, will have to be large enough to carry a whole train, and be provided, further, with appliances for bracing the cars in case the "uncontrollable billows" should cause the ship to roll. But the "uncontrollable billows" are an inconsequential phase of the question. Just what troubles Victoria is the "chickimin." Given the necessary capital and the "uncontrollable billows" are of no consequence except to bilious Vancouverites. Nature may never have intended that Victoria should be connected with the mainland by means of a ferry, but nature, as the oracle of the World well knows, if he is abreast of the times, of late years has had to abate some of her pretensions to unqualified domination. Human ingenuity and the "almighty dollar" have bested her. However, we need not dwell on the puerilities of the Vancouver press, which more times than not are the offsprings of selfish motives. Victoria's "isolation," as the Colonist puts it with solemn naivete, and the necessity of obviating it, is the grand question. We cannot deny it, Victoria just now is a solitary figure, a sort of a wallflower, attractive as a feature of reminiscence, but not in touch with the mad throng around her. Her chief rival in British Columbia is Vancouver, a city capable with the aid of proper nourishment of so filling out as to make a good armful. Moreover, bearing in mind the proximity of the Yankees, the business affinities consequent, their capital and push, Victoria can count on more rivals, viz., a city on Bellingham Bay, Port Townsend and possibly Port Angeles. We do not believe the commercial business on the Sound will continue to be divided among the several cities as at present. All of the cities will continue to be prosperous, but the "heft" of commercial enterprise is bound to centre in some one city as has been the case with San Francisco. There are other cities on San Francisco bay besides San Francisco, but she maintains the commercial prestige. She is nearest to the Golden Gate. Ships can be placed at her wharves cheaper than they can be placed at the wharves of the other cities. Merchandise is ferried to and from San Francisco. This rule must apply to the cities on the Sound, and Victoria, of all her rivals, is nearest the sea save Port Angeles. Victoria connected with the mainland by a perfect system of ferryage tapping the two trans-continental lines, bids fair to become the commercial emporium on the Sound. She will have the advantage of all the other ports in point of cheapness of pilotage and towage, save Port Angeles. The objection to any other than the Westminster-Blaine route is, that only one line of railway would be tapped, the Canadian. If Victoria reaches out at all she might as well reach for the Northern as well as the Canadian railway. The question for Victoria to decide is, whether the commercial emporiumship of the Sound is a plum worth reaching for or not, whether it is worth half a million or not. If Victoria thinks the plum is worth having and grasps for it she will win it. If, however, she is afraid to venture she must divide honors with the other cities on the Sound, and possibly degenerate into a resort for valetudinarians, and such as desire the quiet of semi-rural life.

TEMPERANCE REFORM.

The Rev. Mr. STARR preached last night on temperance to a crowded house, and trite as the subject is regarded to be, it is not too much to say that he invested it with fresh significance. In the matter of the moral and financial waste of intemperance there can be no question, and it could be wished that such was the moral and judicial bias of men as to be able to subscribe in toto to the radical measures proposed by prohibitionists to procure the abolishment of the sale of intoxicants. Men, however, are not built that way, as experience has demonstrated. The overwhelming defeat of prohibition in Canada and the States, if not convincing prohibitionists of the fallacy of their methods, should have done so, and have the effect to stimulate them to a change of plan of campaign. The saloon is the effect of drink, not the cause of it. This proposition is simply irrefutable and for ocular proof of it, prohibition communities keep a private demijohn. Noah established the fatal precedent of the distillery business, when he pressed the juice from the grape, and he set the example of intoxication by turning his own best customer. We do not allude to this episode in a flippant spirit, but as showing that the desire for stimulants is in all probability inherent. Looking at the matter philosophically, therefore, there is no virtue in prohibition. Nevertheless, such exposes as the REV. MR. STARR's are judicious, and if heartily endorsed by a very small proportion of society would seriously affect the revenues of the retail liquor trade. But herein this small proportion of society fails. Men say amen to every word Mr. STARR utters, but within an hour perhaps offer themselves a sacrifice to "bull-dogs." It is hopeless to look for radical reform under such circumstances. It matters not whether the liquor is drank at a public bar or from a private bottle at home, the example is contagious. The true remedy for alcoholism lies in a deep moral sense of its superfluousness, nay, even sinfulness. How to induce a strong moral repugnance to the habit is the problem before temperance workers, not how to suppress it. The appetite for liquor must be killed through moral distaste for it.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Father Damien's successor in the leper island of Molokai is Father Conardy, like Father Damien, a Belgian. A German priest will also share the toils and dangers. There are some nuns already at Molokai, and a young Roman Catholic lady, Miss Flavin, left Liverpool a short time since to devote her life to the same heroic work. The labors have been carried on among lepers by the English and German Moravians for more than half a century. A similar mission was commenced among the Hottentots by a missionary and his English wife in 1818, and the work has extended to Robben Island and Jerusalem. Four Moravians are now consecrating their lives to this service.

Labouchere directs the attention of the Admiralty to the trip of the squadron under Admiral Heneage to Alaskan waters, because, apparently he was afraid of something happening to the ship. He says: "It is notorious that that part of the Pacific is very imperfectly surveyed. The Swiftsure draws, I believe, some 29 feet of water, and it is certainly not every part of the Alaskan coast that such a vessel can approach with safety." No doubt the survey of the intricate channels of the "inland passage" is far from complete, but to an experienced navigator there ought to be little or no danger in taking a squadron through Seymour narrows. Admiral Heneage, at all events, has demonstrated that it can be done, as the ships are now in Alaskan waters.

Winnipeg Sun: By the death of Hon. John Norquay a vacancy is created in the leadership of the Conservative party in this province. So long as the ex-premier was alive and associated with active politics his leadership was a matter of course. Who will his successor be now? That is a question that is not easily solved; there is not a man of any prominence in sight. As for the opposition in the local legislature, unless the Conservatives should succeed in putting a strong man for Kildonan, it must be without a leader and almost without an existence. The time for reconstruction of the conservative ranks has apparently arrived, and the public will await with interest the manner in which it is to be brought about and the lines upon which it is to be undertaken.

FIRST ANNUAL TOUR

—OF—

D. McLENNAN

—OF—

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.

THE WONDERFUL MASTER OF THE Healing Art has arrived in the city, where he intends to remain for a short time, to cure the sick and afflicted of this vicinity. He comes to us laden with testimonials from the leading citizens of California and the Sound. In San Francisco he has practiced for the past sixteen years, and the authenticated reports of some of his cures seem nothing short of miraculous. He uses no medicine and perforce his cures mostly by the WONDERFUL POWER OF MAGNETISM, the gift of but few men on earth. This is the only method of treatment that restores the life-giving principle, magnetism, to the system, thereby increasing the vital powers and electrifying the nervous system, sending the blood coursing and bounding through the veins, withdrawing and allaying in a few minutes all pains and aches from whatever source.

The diseases which yield most readily to the curative agency of this method, as practiced by McLennan, are: Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Deafness, Eruptions, Gravel, Paralysis, Loss of Voice, Wakefulness, Dizziness, Dropsy, Fits, Piles, Scrofula, Swellings, Wens, Spinal Complaints, Cold Feet and Hands, Biliousness, Constipated Limbs, Diseased Kidneys, Sciatica, Nervous Depressions, St. Vitus's Dance, Weak and Ailing Limbs, Mental Depressions, Diseases of the Brain, Dyspepsia, Diabetes, Stricture, Impotency, Tape Worm, Carbuncles, Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Liver Complaint, seminal Weakness, Falling of the Womb, Catarrh, Heart Disease, Fever Sores, Leanness, Rheumatism, Swollen Joints, Weak Lungs, Gout, Goitre, Coughs, Diseases of the Eyes, Neuralgia, Tumors, Tetters, Cancers, White Swellings, Leucorrhœa, Ague and Fever, Milk Leg, etc.

THE CITY CHURCHES.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH.

Rev. M. L. Rugg preached on the subject of Christian endurance from texts in Matthew 10, 22 and Hebrews 3, 6,14. Christ had gained great reputation as a preacher and physician, and his disciples were given this power and sent out to preach the gospel, but Christ warned them they would be despised, ill-treated, and some would lose their lives even. He encourages them to endure to the end. We have been redeemed from bondage of sin to the glorious liberty of the children of God, but have a responsibility in the matter. We are assured that none shall pluck any from the gold of God, but our lives may be a counterfeit of Christianity. Beginning the Christian life is not salvation, and Christ takes pains to warn us "He that shall endure to the end shall be saved;" Be ye faithful unto death and I will give you a crown of life;" He that overcometh, etc." These texts show there is a sureness, but they teach also a contest, we are nowhere warranted in laying the warfare down. Wherever the gospel in its purity has been preached, the advancement of truth and goodness has been accompanied by conflict, setting one against another, for what fellowship have the children of light with the children of disobedience? So when the grace of God enters a man's heart, the conflict begins with particular sins, evil companionships, weakness of the flesh, and if he lay down his armor he at once begins to lose strength. The church meets with opposition in proportion to her aggressiveness. The conflict is to be a permanent one. How many professors of religion are like the seed which fell upon stony ground and at once sprung up but withered and died when the heat of the sun touched them; they began but did not endure. Others, and the thorns sprung up and choked them, cares of the world took all their attention and they have no time for God's work. We may sometimes fail in the struggle; we are not commended to be always successful, but to endure; as long as we struggle to rise we are safe. Christian life looks to the future, not backwards. Christ—"For the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising shame." Paul—"Forgetting the things that are behind, pressed forward to the mark of the prize of the high calling." Ask yourself, are you still fighting the good fight, and if not, then put aside all past experience, trust yourself in his hands and start again the struggle against sin. Remember that to be almost saved is to be altogether lost.

In the evening Mr. Rugg preached to a large congregation, a special sermon to boys, from Proverbs, 23, 3 and 4.

PANDORA STREET METHODIST CHURCH.

Having had their attention directed, no doubt by "Pioneer's" letter, that appeared in our columns a few days since, complaining of the series of discourses now being delivered by Rev. J. E. Starr, a large number attended this church on Sunday evening to hear what the preacher had to say. Speaking from the text, "Who slew all them?" (2 Kings, 10-9) the preacher said substantially as follows: "Were the same question asked about numbers of people who have perished in our midst, notwithstanding that some doctors would pronounce the cause of death to be heart disease, apoplexy, or some kindred disease, I stand here tonight to say that these deaths were caused by the chief abetter of evil, the evil of evils, the evil of drunkard making. The number of saloons compared with the population of this city is out of all proportion. In the past, when I stated that approximately there were between 70 and 80 saloons in the city, the statement was challenged. It was characterized as being perfectly disgraceful. Now, through the kindness and courtesy of the civic officials, to whom I wish here publicly to extend my sincere thanks, I am enabled to state that we have exactly 97 such places. Taking for illustration the estimate of 10,000 as the population of this city, there is one saloon to every 100 men, women and children, and reckoning five as a fair representation of a family, a saloon to every 20 families. Speaking approximately, there are 11 to every church, 16 for every school, 26 for every hospital, and 60 of these orphan-making places to every place where orphans could go for care and protection. I want to show the slaughter made by this evil, and before I get through your verdict in favor of exterminating it will not have an uncertain sound. I will first speak of the massacre as perpetrated upon legitimate business. There are just three ways of getting money or amassing wealth, namely, stealing it, receiving it as a donation, and earning it. The liquor business, some will tell you, is a legitimate business, conducive to the welfare of the community, and giving fair exchange for value received, etc. Suppose we say four workmen were paid off last night. Their wages, we will say, amounted to $22.00 each. One spends a large proportion of it in dry goods, one in groceries and one in boots and shoes. The last spends his in a liquor store. Each of those men has a family to bring up and educate. Next Wednesday night, I will say, let us go to the house of the man who spent his money in the dry goods store, and arriving there we will make our proposition known. We meet the wife, and she says, "Yes, our children are provided for, and we are even happier than before, inasmuch as we are better off." There has been fair exchange and buyer and seller have been both benefitted. The same story is told us at the house of the man who spent his money in groceries, and the same with one who invested in the boot and shoe store. Finally, we bring up at the home of the man who spent his $15 at the saloon and addressing him, we say, "My dear sir, we hear you have spent $15 at so-and-so's, will you be good enough to let us know what you can show in return for it?" "I will show you," will he say that? He merely hangs his head and perhaps mutters, "I can't say I have received much more than this—a racking headache!" you smile but would it not be better for him to have thrown the money into the street? This $15 is just so much diverted from the channel of legitimate business. Look at it in another light. Suppose we gather up all the money to be earned in this city in a year, and pile it up here on this platform, and all you men in the line of legitimate business come up and put it into circulation. The lawyer comes up, the merchant comes up, and the minister—well, they never come very close. The liquor sellers come up and say, "We want $700,000 for our share." There is an even number of 100 saloons in this city and an average of $20 a day pass over the counters; in a week about $14,000 and in one year $700,000. "We had paid but a pittance, but we must take the first grab, and the grab we will have." If a man who is addicted to the habit of drink has a dollar in his pocket, he spends it for liquor and goes to your business man and asks to be trusted for what he wants. But, say some, "Doesn't the liquor seller patronize these lines of legitimate business?" Yes, but he is only one to twenty who patronize his own business. Saloon keepers live by sucking the life-blood from legitimate business, like the immense flies of Manitoba and the Northwest, called the "bull-dogs." They come in herds and pounding on an animal suck his life-blood until he drops dead. Just so with these ninety-seven liquor sellers "bull-dogs" they are, sucking the life-blood of those who patronize them. "Well," says some one, "just look at the revenue derived from these 97 saloon keepers." Suppose I stand in the run with 97 of these bull-dogs fastened on my back, and I let them suck away for a whole year. At the end of that time I take them off and invert them, squeezing out but a few drops of blood. I swallow this and say, "I have now so much more blood in me." Is there any school-boy here who wouldn't say, "You are one fool anyway?" The city derives the mere pittance of $50 or $200, as the case may be, from a saloon, and they say, "Look at the revenue." Where did this money originally come from? Build up a city in that way financially, commercially and morally? You might as well have ninety-seven "bull-dogs" at your heels and on your back seven days in the week and twenty-four hours in the day. Again, the liquor business is a slayer of public morals. There is no business that can be compared with it for its evil effects. Just as soon as a man commences to be addicted to drink he must see, and finally that man will perjure himself for the benefit of another man intending to set up a saloon. With these ninety-seven pieces of business you can no more manage successfully the affairs of this city than you can a kite without a string or a tail. Who has ever heard of a man having been so intoxicated upon a piece of salt pork as to knock a man down at the grocer's. Or a man coming home and beating his children and choking his wife through being exhilarated by a pair of new shoes? Then the children of this traffic are the gambling hells and houses of ill-fame. Then again, even the franchise is effected by this traffic. The crave for drink is so strong and so debasing that a man enslaved by it will sell his vote. There are politicians low enough to stoop and subsidize saloons with the order that drinks should be set up for the boys. This evil fosters other evils. They separate other evils, but this evil is an abbetor of all others. I remember when the craze for roller skating struck Canada, I was requested to study the question. I said from the pulpit that it was kept up by the saloon on one side and houses of prostitution on the other. I must not close without mentioning the massacre perpetrated upon home life. In the atmosphere of the home, there are fruits born of the best impulses. In leaving home with the wife's kiss on his lips and the feel of the little one's arms around his neck, a man has a greater charity for his fellowmen. The home is the nation's safe guard. But when into that refuge and place of retirement and peace, there comes a breath like the hot breath of a sirocco, it trampies out all affections and leaves it a drunkard's home. O God! the mockery. A couple stands at the marriage altar. The promise is made to love, honor and cherish until death doth them part. But the scene changes, and you find a disconsolate home, an uncarpeted floor and upon a broken chair sits a broken-hearted wife. "Oh!" she says, "he was a good man. There was no kinder husband than he. He was handsome too and generous. But, oh! but the drink did it, the drink did it!" Ah, many homes there are in this city to-night where that scene has been enacted. Oh, the havoc! Oh, the ruin! Worse than the devil fish. The liquor traffic not only wraps its tentacles around the drunkard himself, but throws its blighting coils around the family and the home. Is it not a snarper, a perpetrator of a massacre so foul that even the denizens of hell would shudder at the thought of it. What shall the verdict be? Banish this evil from our midst! Before that time comes, some of you will have filled a drunkard's grave, unless you quit tonight. The habit of inebriety, with one mighty clasp will make you exclaim, "My God!" and sink into the drunkard's grave. Oh, is that you? For God's sake quit! Some of you say, I can quit some other time. I tell you unless the grace of God helps you, you cannot do it. I have heard reformed inebriates say that after repeated efforts they have failed and failed until they relied on the strength of God Almighty. Oh, you who have your home a hell, if you want to be free, I tell you by the grace of God you can be free. Not without a struggle on your part certainly, a life and death struggle, and a struggle perhaps that would mean the line bitten through till drops of blood trickled from them. Like the Spartan chief of old, who dying for his country at the point of achieving a victory, wrote on the rock beside which he had fallen with the life blood that was slowly ebbing away, "Sparta has conquered." So you may high upon the Rock of Ages inscribe, "Victory, victory, through our Lord Jesus Christ."

CITY AND PROVINCE.

—The lungs, liver, kidneys, bowels, &c., act as so many waste gates for the escape of effete matter and gases from the body. The use of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery helps them to discharge their duty. Mr. W. H. Lester, H. M. Customs, Toronto, writes: "I have personally tested the health-giving properties of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, and can testify as to its great value."

—Volumes of bombast have been published about the multifarious and irreconcilable effects of many proprietary remedies. The proprietors of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery content themselves with facts susceptible of proof. They state their purifier to be what it has proved itself to be, an eradicator of dyspepsia, constipation, liver and kidney troubles, and a fine general alterative.

—Messrs. Parker & Laird, of Hillsdale, write: "Our Mr. Laird having occasion to visit Scotland, and knowing the excellent qualities of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, concluded to take some with him, and the result has been very astonishing. We may say that in several instances it has effected cures when ailments had been pronounced incurable by eminent practitioners."

—Just think of it—you can relieve the twinges of rheumatism, or the most painful attack of neuralgia—you can check a cough, and heal broken or bruised skin, with a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, costing only 25 cents.

—There is nothing equal to Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator for destroying worms. No article of its kind has given such satisfaction.

—Holloway's Corn Cure is the medicine to remove all kinds of corns and warts, and only costs the small sum of twenty-five cents.

THE BRITISH COLUMBIA FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.

TAKES RISKS ON THE CASH OR MUTUAL PLANS.

As this is a Home Company, organized by British Columbians for the two-fold purpose of giving Cheap Insurance and keeping the money in this Province, it commends itself to the support of every insurer desiring the prosperity of this country.

In Ontario, the system of insurance, which is similar to that adopted by this Company, has been in highly successful operation for the past fifty years, and it has proved to be a great advantage to every insurer in it, by reducing the cost of insurance, and it is estimated that now three-fourths of the insurance effected in Ontario is carried by mutual companies.

Railway Shares.

Grand Trunk are 110¼; Northern Pacific, slightly lower, at 27; and Canadian Pacific are strong at 55¾.

In Quarantine.

The three cases of smallpox which developed at New Westminster have been placed in close quarantine on the end of Lulu Island and every necessary precaution taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

Loss Adjusted.

The damage done to Mr. J. Sehl's palatial residence, by fire recently, has been satisfactorily adjusted by two local insurance companies, which conjointly paid to Mr. Sehl the sum of $525 for damages sustained. The work of repairing will begin at once.

New Officer.

Mr. Stroud L. Bedgrave has been appointed an officer on the city police force vice Almond Thomas, resigned. The appointment is a good one. Mr. Redgrave is a Victorian of 25 years of age, has a wife family, is conscientious and will endeavor to do his best at all times.

The Karluk.

The injuries to the steamer Karluk, which recently fouled the Fraser River Sandheads, are more extensive than were anticipated. The vessel's keel is considerably torn up and her hull strained. A gang of shipwrights are at present working on her, and it is not likely she will come out of the dry dock till Friday.

To Enter the Dock.

It is understood that the owners of the steamship Corona are negotiating for that vessel to enter the drydock. While leaving the wharf on her last trip for Alaska, a rope became entangled in the steamer's propeller, which is still wound around the shaft. It is for the purpose of rectifying this that the vessel will go into dock.

A Popular Captain.

The many friends of Capt. H. G. Morse, of the Oceanic Steamship Co's steamship Alameda, who is well known here as the popular commander of the steamship Dakota, will be pleased to learn that on his last trip to Sydney he was presented with a gold medal surmounted by diamonds by his many friends in that city and also with a medal from the California Athletic Club of San Francisco.

Death.

Hugh Johnson, a native of County Antrim, Ireland, expired at 7:30 Sunday morning at his home, Elizabeth street, this city. The deceased had been a resident of this city for about five years and had suffered from an affection of the head for a dozen years or so. He had passed the Biblical age of three score and ten by two years, and leaves a wife and family to mourn his demise. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2:30.

The Manor House.

Mr. Archie F. Reid, late steward of the Clarence Hotel, Victoria, has leased Mr. Couture's family hotel on the corner of Pender and Howe streets, Vancouver, and will open out a first-class establishment as soon as the building is completed, which will be about September. It will be called the Manor House. Mr. Reid was always extremely popular at the Clarence, and under his management the hotel cannot fail to be a great success.

A Correction.

In THE TIMES of Saturday, under news from Ottawa, it was stated that Cosgrove, of Cowichan, successfully passed the competitive examination for entrance at the Royal Military College, Kingston. The person meant is Edward C. Musgrave, son of Edward Musgrave, Esq., of Salt Spring Island. Mr. Musgrave was pupil for some time at Corrig school, and was the only candidate attending the examination for the above college held at C Battery here a few weeks ago.

Additions.

Mr. Macgregor, public librarian, has donated a complete set of Appleton's Encyclopedia, consisting of thirty volumes, to the library. The work, as everyone is aware, is a very valuable one, especially to people in this country as it devotes a large share of space to Canadian affairs. The gift is made by Mr. Macgregor in accordance with his promise to the council that a half of each month's salary would be used in making additions to the library.

Y. M. C. A. Convention.

The sixth annual convention of the Pacific Northwest Y. M. C. A. will be held in Vancouver next September, 19th to 22nd. The executive committee expect this to be one of the largest and most profitable conventions ever held in the Northwest, and are already arranging to make the gathering a notable one for its spiritual power and its influence upon the future of the Association of the Northwest. The Vancouver Association under the direction of Mr. G. A. Charnock, is already planning for the reception of the convention.

Obituary.

William Brown, who has been living in a cabin on Fort street for some time, died this morning from inanition. He had been unwell for some time and last night Dr Milne was called in. Deceased was an Englishman about 60 years of age. About two years ago he lost his wife, since which time he seemed despondent. He was a skillful mechanic, by trade a carpenter, but eccentric in his habits. Conversing with a friend of the deceased to-day it was learned that his ideas of architecture were thorough. The remains will be interred by the city.

Death of an Old Victorian.

At Vanscuver, on Saturday evening, Michael Costello, sr., aged 88 years, passed away to his eternal rest. The deceased was father of Ald. Costello, of Vancouver, and lived with him at his residence, Westminster Avenue. He died peacefully, his death being the result of old age, and remained conscious to the last. Mr. Costello was born in Mayo, Ireland, in 1801, emigrated to the United States in 1852, living in New York State until he moved to Minnesota in 1862. Coming to Victoria in 1885, he resided here for one year, moving next to Vancouver and residing there with his son till the time of his death.

Almost a Drowning Accident

While Mr. Saml. Kisburg and family were enjoying an outing last evening on the Arm, near Victoria Gardens, they observed three men trying to row a boat through the Gorge. They had rowed part of the way through the current, which was very rapid at the time, when the boat was whirled around and nearly precipitating the men into the water. Fortunately assistance was at hand, for had it not been for the timely help of Master J. Kisburg, J. Miller and two other gentlemen, whose names are unknown, there certainly would have been a loss of life to record. The victims of the mishap suffered nothing worse than the wetting, which it is said they would not have received had they not been so dry during the afternoon.

Appreciation of Worth.

On the receipt of the news at Kamloops of the death of Mr. Barnard, a public meeting was held with Dr. Tunstall in the chair, at which the following resolutions were passed:

Moved by W. Jones, seconded by R. E. Smith, That this meeting, representing the people of Kamloops, learns with extreme regret of the death of Mr. Barnard, who for many years represented the Yale-Kootenay District in the Dominion Parliament, and takes this opportunity to express its appreciation of his abilities, both as a politician and as a business man, and to express its regret at the loss of one of the true pioneers of this province, who ever made the welfare and interests of this district his especial care.

Moved by J. McIntosh, seconded by W. J. Roper, That a letter of condolence be sent to Mrs. Barnard and family.

ANOTHER WAIF.

The Remains of a Child Discovered on the Beach.

On Sunday afternoon provincial officer Lewis was informed that the remains of a child were on the beach near the old rest house, on the Indian reserve. The officer immediately went to the spot and found the decomposed body of an infant about three months old. The body was wrapped up in a red woolen cloth and was tied in a piece of rice matting. This morning undertaker Hayward took charge of the body and brought it to his undertaking rooms, where it was seen this afternoon by a TIMES reporter. The features are unrecognizable and it was impossible to tell whether the infant was a white or Indian. The flesh on both legs was gone. Wrapped around the body was a portion of a red shawl, and the rice matting was tied to the bones of the feet. The provincial authorities will hold an inquest on the body at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning. A few weeks ago the remains of another infant were discovered in the same locality. It is presumed that the last body is the remains of an Indian child which was cast into the sea and washed up on the beach.

KAMLOOPS JOTTINGS.

Events Which Excite our Friends in the Interior.

From the Inland Sentinel.]

Mr. A. J. Clyde is advertising his household effects for sale, it being his intention to remove to Victoria, where Mrs. Clyde now is. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde will be much missed in musical and social circles in Kamloops.

The teachers examinations opened in the public school building on Monday last, and will continue until Wednesday next. There are nine candidates writing, only one of whom is writing for a first.

Mr. F. Bennett, late of the firm of Lumby & Bennett, farmers in the Spallumcheen valley, has been calling on friends in town this week, bidding them adieu. Mr. Bennett leaves British Columbia in three weeks for England, going by way of C. P. R. to Montreal, and stopping off for a few days each of the principal cities en route. It is 21 years since Mr. Bennett came to British Columbia, coming direct from England by way of the West Indies, and landing at Victoria. Since that time he has not been out of the province and for the past 12 years has been in Victoria only three times, his whole time being spent in the inland country.

On Sunday last, early in the afternoon, there reached Kamloops a drove of sheep numbering over 2500, in charge of five men and two or three dogs. The sheep were purchased in Washington Territory, and were driven a distance of 400 miles, being five weeks on the road. The drove originally contained 2700, but about 100 were lost along the Columbia river through eating some poisonous weed growing there. The animals are of the Merino species, and are owned by Messrs. Hull Bros., and Harvey & Co.

Coming North.

San Francisco, July 15—The steamer Mexico sailed yesterday with the following passengers for Victoria: Mrs. Eidenmuller, Mrs. Bucktel, J. Surr, Mrs. R. Parker, R. Armstrong, Mrs. T. H. Langley and child, F. R. Murray, A. H. Mead, D. H. Watson, H. Richards, J. Baine and Miss Murray.

Rock Creek Rock.

Mr. J. Kurtz received to-day a small tobacco box with a couple of ore samples from the Eureka mine belonging to the Douglas Mining Co., Rock creek. These samples represent some of the kinds of ore coming from the 100 ft. level of the Eureka. The drift is in 52 feet, and the vein is five feet wide, with perfect walls and gangue. The ore pans very rich in gold.

Involuntary Bath.

While William Baird, barkeeper on the Islander, was coming ashore from the steamer this afternoon, he accidentally fell overboard. At the time of the accident he held an empty whisky demijohn in his hand. Paradoxical as it may seem it was full—of air—and materially assisted in keeping him afloat till a deck hand came to his rescue and fished him out.

Chemainus Mill Extension.

The Victoria Lumber Manufacturing Company will shortly proceed with the extension of their mill at Chemainus, enlarging it to a capacity of 250,000 feet per day. F. G. Strickland & Co., of New Westminster, representing manufacturing firms in the east, have received an order for five 20 foot steel boilers and a large lot of other machinery which have to be delivered by the first of September.

Ho, for the North!

The C. P. N. Co.'s steamer Sardonyx, Capt. Meyer, sailed for the north at 5 o'clock this afternoon with a full freight and the following passengers: A. J. McLellan and wife, Miss Grubbs, Miss Emma Roscoe and Mr. J. B. McCready go up Nass river on a pleasure trip; Mr B. Yeomans goes to Aberdeen, Mr. J. C. Spencer goes to Fort Simpson, Miss Lily Parkes goes to Skeena, besides a large number of other passengers for different points.

Leg Broken.

The young man referred to in these columns a few days ago as being severely injured by a log rolling on him at Salt Spring Island is named Haskins. Some fourteen hours elapsed after the accident before medical attendance reached him, when it was found that a leg was broken and his ribs severely hurt. Dr. Jones skilfully set the injured member and at last accounts the young man was progressing as well as could be expected.

Saturday Night's Alarm.

The needless alarm of fire turned in on Saturday night was the cause of breaking one of the hose reels and almost caused serious injury to two men. The reel was attached to an express wagon and was taken through the streets at a reckless pace. The reel collided with a telephone post at the south end of James Bay bridge. The men were thrown on the street and were lucky enough to escape with a few bruises. At the time the alarm was given a number of the firemen were on the way to the fire, the chief considering that it was unnecessary to awaken and alarm the citizens.

Nicola Notes.

Public school examinations were held on Thursday, June 27th, the scholars acquitting themselves admirably, reflecting great credit on teacher and pupils. Quite a number of visitors were present. Teacher and pupils are now enjoying their well-earned vacation.

Mr. G. C. Tunstall, whose official duties for some years past had so often called him to Nicola, has been appointed to Revelstoke. He will be greatly missed in Nicola, and the old saying may still be applied "Nicola's loss is Revelstoke's gain."

Rev. G. Murray returned Saturday, July 6th, from a trip to San Francisco, and the coast. His many friends are glad to see him in their midst again.

Ranchers are busy harvesting what little hay the grasshoppers left. It is really deplorable to see the havoc they made, having laid bare the gardens as well as ranches and ranges.

Quite an interest of late has been manifested in the temperance cause. The majority of citizens seeing the evil of intemperance in their community have signed a petition asking that a renewal of license be not granted to the Driard Hotel at Nicola Lake. The licensing board granted a renewal for six months only, in order to give the present proprietor a chance to dispose of his stock, so as to incur no financial loss.

Mr. A. R. Carrington has accepted a position as book-keeper for the store of Mr. Marcus Woodward, Lower Nicola.

AMICUS.

Rifle.

The annual meeting of the B. C. Rifle association will be held at New Westminster about the first of next month. The short obsolete Snider will be used.

Sawmill for Alberni.

It is understood that a company has been formed in this city for the erection of a sawmill in Alberni with a capacity of 150,000 feet per day. Arrangements for proceeding with the work are not yet completed, though they will be in the course of a few weeks. Alberni offers one of the best sites on the coast for sawmills, and the first to enter into the business there will undoubtedly have a good thing.

The Joint Snake.

The so-called joint snake, or snake lizzard, has a tail very long and brittle, and a slight blow will sometimes cause it to break into many pieces. When the tail has been broken and lost, a new one immediately begins to grow, and specimens with little sprouting tails only a few inches in length have frequently been taken. These newly developed tails are lighter in color than the other portions of the lizzard, and only assume the darker or normal color with age. The self-mending power attributed to the Ophisaurus is well known to be a shallow myth, yet notwithstanding there are some who pertinaciously believe in it.

Skepticism.

By reason of the state of chronic incredulity in which many men pass their lives they miss half the good of this world. They seem to think that doubt and unbelief are proofs of wisdom, and through fear of being deceived reject much that is true and good. To such minds the statement that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a real and proven cure for all diseases caused by torpid liver, bad blood or scrofulous humors carries with it its own condemnation. They do not believe it, apparently, because we say so; and yet what more, or less, than this can we do? We know the facts, and if we did not make public the great value of this remedy few would profit by it. We try to do our duty in the matter and it remains for the doubter who needs help to overcome his prejudice and give it a trial.

J. N. Muir's Brochure.

Mr. J. N. Muir's latest brochure is of a biographical character, and the subject is the Provincial Secretary. Mr. Muir does not give us as much of an insight into the P. S.'s boyhood and subsequent matriculation in the school of modern Ananiasses as one could wish. He calls the public's attention simply to pages 55-56 "last schools report" and contentiously asks, what must be thought of John Robson. It might be supposed that in our capacity as a journalist we should answer the conundrum. The task, however, is too delicate for us. Our casuistic facility is not yet fully developed. The Colonist, though, which has the contract of explaining the eccentricities of civil functionaries will probably undertake to unravel the mystery of pages 55 and 56, and prove Mr. Muir a "malicious falsifier." The P. S. may regard himself invulnerable to the attacks of his unsolicited biographer, but there are people just credulous enough to swallow the whole story. If the Colonist does not attempt to explain the peculiar relations of its "dispassionate spectator" to the school report, we shall feel it our duty to attempt the exculpation of the gentleman ourself. Would the Colonist have us do this?

A Chinese Slave Rescued.

Yesterday morning Rev. Mr. Robson, accompanied by Mr. Gardner, Chinese interpreter at Victoria, and Officer Abray, went over to Moodyville on a rescuing mission. Some time ago it came to the notice of Mr. Robson that Charlie, foreman of the Chinamen at Moodyville, had a little Chinese slave girl whom he had bought in Victoria and whom he was using in a not too gentle manner, making her carry heavy burdens and do work beyond the strength of a child of her years. The presence of Mr. Gardner and the result of the case against Ah Foo offered an opportunity that was looked for. Captain Power's aid was enlisted and together the party went to Charlie's house and unfolded their business to him. At first Charlie made strong objections to parting with the girl and his wife was even more opposed to losing her than he, but Mr. Robson read the law and explained the penalty of its infraction and finally they consented to giving the girl her freedom. She was accordingly brought over to the city and in the afternoon sent in charge of Miss Hart to the home in Victoria. The girl's name is Loi Ho, which being interpreted means Future Good. She is 10 years of age and has been in this country five years.—News-Advertiser.

Murder Will Out.

The authorities have a case in hand just now against a couple of sawsshes, and as soon as all the evidence has been collected it will come before the courts. It will be remembered that last year on the 30th of June a man named D. J. Jackson was found about 300 yards west of Spratt's wharf in this city with his throat cut from ear to ear. The manner in which the deed had been done was peculiarly atrocious. The struggle between the victim an his murderers had taken place beneath a leaning tree, and when Jackson had been overcome by his assailants they had forced him on his back with his head over a log and had used the knife on him while in this position. The blood had spurted from the wounds to a great distance and the ground was perfectly saturated. When the police examined the surroundings Chief Stewart was satisfied that it was the work of Indians. All efforts to find out the perpetors, however, proved unavailing. Some weeks ago a series of happy occurrences placed the chief of police in possession of such facts that a conviction could be secured. He communicated with Gov. Moresby, and the Indians were arrested and are now in custody. This crime, together with others, will be urged against them.—News-Advertiser.

DIED.

JOHNSON.—In this city, on the 14th inst., Hugh Johnson, a native of County Antrim, Ireland, aged 70 years.

The funeral will take place on Tuesday, 16th inst., at 2 p. m., from the residence, No. 39 Elizabeth street.

THE PROPOSED REFERENCE.

The Montreal Star, whose publisher has petitioned for the submission of the Jesuit estate act to the Supreme Court, has obtained the opinions of a large number of the members of the House of Commons in respect, to the propriety of such a reference. Mr. D. W. Gordon, M. P. for Vancouver District, writes to the Star as follows:

"Were the government to accede to the prayer of the petition for such a reference, they would be abdicating the functions of government and would no longer be entitled to the support of parliament, especially when we consider that the decision of the government was sustained by such eminent legal members of parliament as the Hon. E. Blake, Hon. D. Mills, J. D. Edgar and other legal gentlemen on both sides of the House; as also by the Hon. A. McKenzie, all of whom, I believe, were actuated by the highest and best motives and in the best interests of Canada. Each one of the 188 who voted to sustain the allowance of the Jesuits' estate act is responsible to the people of their several constituencies for their action on that, as upon all other votes in parliament, and the Supreme Court could not relieve me from my share of that responsibility, nor do I dread or regret my action. The reference would form a dangerous precedent, one that might prove destructive of the future legislation of the several provinces comprising the Dominion upon any question of public policy confined to or within the boundaries of any province. Though the question might not be of the same character, the high court of parliament would be degraded by such a reference under such circumstances."
